
This article is about nabiyon ke kisse pdf download. Just as page numbers and punctuation mark the flow of a book, the illustration below shows the various parts of Urdu alphabet. Urdu is a character-based language and uses the Arabic script that consists of 28 letter, 10 basic vowels and 18 consonants. It has been greatly influenced by the Persian language. The Urdu alphabet is composed of 28 characters, comprising 24 consonants and 4 or 5 vowel sounds. Here is a list of Urdu alphabet characters and their names. In the Urdu language, words are not separated by spaces as in English, but they are generally separated by a thin line known as "Urafa". This Urafa is flexible as Urdu does not have any set grammar or rules. In English, we might say "I want to go" but in Urdu we might say "Main chahna hoon gi". So, the meaning of the word depends on the context and usage of a word. Urdu is not limited to using Arabic script; rather, the Urdu language printed in Perso-Arabic Nastaliq is extremely difficult to read. Aside from the Urdu language, it also has three other scripts: Here is an alphabet chart showing how Urdu words are written in Perso-Arabic Nastaliq. Name of the letter combination printed in Perso-Arabic Nastaliq style: Urdu has been written from right to left by Muslims since its beginning. In fact, Arabic text was written from right to left before Islam and even before it was standardized as a language. The complete Urdu alphabet, as well as the Perso-Arabic Nastaliq script, can be seen in the table below. The Urdu alphabet has undergone a number of modifications over the centuries, making it difficult to determine exactly how it was originally formed. However, one thing is for sure: whatever the changes may be, a Muslim influence was always present. The Urdu language adopted from Arabic during its evolution has been greatly influenced by Persian and other regional dialects. There have been no attempts to have a standard form of Urdu as it requires many archaic words that date back to several centuries ago.
